

THOUSANDS KILLED BY EARTHQUAKE

City Is Annihilated By A Volcanic Eruption On Martinique.

ST. PIERRE, A TOWN OF 24,000 PEOPLE, DESTROYED

IN THE DANISH WEST INDIES.

Hundreds are Killed in Earthquake Shocks Which Destroy Guatemala Towns Too.

PARIS, MAY 9.—LA PATRIA NOW ESTIMATES THAT THE NUMBER OF DEAD IN THE ST. PIERRE DISASTER WILL REACH 26,000 PEOPLE.

Paris, May 9.—M. Triard, procureur general of St. Pierre, Martinique, Danish West Indies, cabled today that he and his family were among the saved. He confirms the report of the complete destruction of the town.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., May 9.—(Bulletin)—Today there seems to be no doubt that the whole town of St. Pierre, Martinique, with its 24,000 people, has been overwhelmed by a volcanic eruption just the same as was Pompeii. It is impossible at this time to get details.

On Tuesday last lava began flowing and a factory containing 150 people, was enveloped. One hundred and fifty lives were lost. The backbone of Martinique was forged by volcanic mountains.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., May 9.—The British steamer Roddam, Captain Freeman, which left St. Lucia Wednesday for Martinique, returned there at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon bringing a report that the town of St. Pierre, Martinique, has been totally destroyed by volcanic disturbances in the island. Almost all the inhabitants of St. Pierre are said to have been killed. The Roddam reports that all the shipping in the port has also been destroyed. The Quebec steamship company's steamer, Roraima, which left New York April 26, is mentioned as lost with all on board.

The Roddam was almost completely wrecked. Her captain was seriously burned and 17 of her crew are dead.

St. Pierre is the largest of the 25 momunes comprising the island of Martinique. The population is estimated at about 24,000, the people ranging from Creole negroes to half castes. The city lies 33 miles south of Dominica and 22 miles north of St. Lucia. It is located on the coast of Caribbean sea, and a cluster of volcanic mountains in the north, a similar group in the south, and a line of mountains towering between them, lends a sinister aspect to the place.

The city was named after the author of the famous book, "Paul and Virginia," Bernardine St. Pierre, and it is there that the young lovers are supposed to have lived.

The products of the island are tobacco, cotton, sugar and cocoa, but the natives being of a lazy nature, the commercial activity of the place has been sadly neglected.

In August, 1767, severe earthquakes visited the island, destroying several settlements and killing in all over 16,000 persons. Several minor shocks have been felt since that time, and in some cases the loss of life has been heavy.

In 1839 the last earthquake of any severity was felt. At that time the loss of life ran into the hundreds, and profiting by their experience the inhabitants of the island have ever since constructed their houses entirely of wood and only one story in height.

Guatemala City, Guatemala, May 9.—Earthquakes have been tumbling down towns and villages on the western slope of the Sierras in this republic for two weeks past.

The first shock at the capital caused the people to rush for shelter, crying, praying and a few trying to sing the "Salve Regina."

News soon began to come in from the hill country, where Quetzaltenango is situated. This, the second city of the republic, suffered the most. Hundreds of residences and public buildings were either totally destroyed or seriously damaged. The very narrow streets, often not over three or four yards wide, and the irregular manner in which the town is built, served to make deathtraps of the houses, so that although not half of the debris has yet been removed fully 200 bodies have been recovered and many persons were badly injured.

Fire, as well as flood, added to the horror of the night, with the result that many people have gone insane and others have committed suicide.

Amatlan, San Juan, San Marcos, Escuintla, Santa Lucia, Utatlana and several other smaller towns have been partly ruined. Still, very few lives, considering the extent of the disaster, have been lost. Approximately 50,000 people have been left homeless, and public as well as private subscriptions are being raised to prevent the poor from starving.

San Francisco, May 9.—Today the steamer Newport from Central America reports that while the news has been exaggerated, Guatemala's earthquake caused great loss of life and property. The suffering among the people is considerable. The shock occurred on the eve of April 18, and lasted 40 seconds at San Jose, coming in sections. Buildings rocked and people rushed into the streets. No lives were lost at San Jose but many buildings were cracked.

At Quetzaltenango, 50 miles distant, 500 are reported killed out of a population of 40,000.

Mrs. Clara Kilaare, a white photographer, was the only white person killed, the balance being Indians. The British consulate was among the places destroyed. Most of the deaths were on the street, the panic stricken Indians being crushed by the falling ruins. The people are camped on a plain near the city. They fear a repetition of the shocks. Small earthquakes occur daily. The city is under martial law. Death and damage is also reported to have resulted in other cities.

Much damage was done at the Pacific ports of Ocos and Champerico. Coffee plantations suffered heavily because of the disturbance to the soil.

Paris, May 9.—The minister of marine today received the following cablegram sent from Fort DeFrance Island of Martinique, D. W. I., by the commander of the French warship Suchet:

"Have just returned from St. Pierre, which has been completely destroyed by an immense mass of fire which fell on the town at about 8 o'clock Thursday morning. The entire population, about 25,000 souls, is supposed to have perished. I have brought back the few survivors, about 30. All the shipping in the harbor has been destroyed by fire. The eruption continues."

London, May 9.—The colonial office today reports that a volcano on the island of St. Vincent, British West Indies, was active on Tuesday. Three hundred refugees from the vicinity of the volcano are being cared for by the authorities in Chateau Belair.

London, May 9.—St. Vincent is the next island south of Martinique, where 25,000 persons are reported to have lost their lives in the volcanic eruption. Soufriere is a famous volcano, and has had several terrific eruptions. Its crater is three miles in circumference and 500 feet deep.

AUTHOR FORD MURDERED BY HIS BROTHER.

Disinherited Malcolm Ford Then Took His Own Life With a Pistol.

A FRATRICIDAL TRAGEDY IN NEW YORK HOME.

NOTED NOVELIST'S TRAGIC END.

Brother Who Killed Him Supposed to Have Been Temporarily Insane from Nervous Trouble.

New York, May 9.—Paul Leicester Ford, the novelist, was shot by his brother, Malcolm Webster Ford, writer and athlete, who immediately sent a bullet into his own breast, dying instantly. The shooting occurred in the handsome new mansion which Paul Leicester Ford had built at 37 East 77th street.

At the time of the shooting there were in the house besides the two brothers, Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford, Miss Elizabeth R. Hall, the novelist's secretary, and the servants. The novelist was sitting at his desk in one corner of his library, a large, attractively appointed room at the back of the house on the second floor. It is supposed he was busily engaged at some literary task. Miss Hall was at her desk in another corner of the room about thirty feet from Mr. Ford. Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford was in her room at the front of the house on the third floor.

Malcolm W. Ford called, as he often had done, and went to his brother at his desk. Words were exchanged in a tone so low that Miss Hall could not hear what was said, though she says she probably might have distinguished the words if she had been paying any attention to this particular meeting of the brothers. Suddenly there was a revolver shot and Miss Hall, jumping up darted from the room. Then, according to the statements of the police Miss Hall said to herself that she must act more bravely and re-enter the library.

Meanwhile Malcolm Ford had called her. As she turned towards him, he placed the revolver to his heart, fired and fell, dying instantly. When Miss Hall turned to look at Paul, he was still standing at his desk, but rapidly losing strength. She helped him to a sofa and then ran next door to Mr. Paul Ford's physician, Dr. Emanuel Baruch. In less than five minutes Dr. Baruch arrived and the dying man, still conscious, was carried up to a room beside his wife's and placed on his bed. He spoke to his wife, and asked the doctor for his opinion, showing that he expected death and was going to meet it calmly and bravely. A few moments later, about twenty minutes after he was shot, Mr. Ford died.

The bullet which killed Paul Leicester Ford just grazed the top of his heart and passed through a large artery from it. The bullet which killed Malcolm Ford was fired with the same accuracy of aim for it made a wound scarcely an inch lower than the one which killed his brother. In fact, the wounds were almost identical.

The murder and suicide occurred before noon yesterday but was not known to the police till 4:25.

E. H. Kidder refused to make any statement in regard to the shooting except a brief memorandum which was given to the police. In this it was said that the cause of the shooting could be only surmised. Information from other sources makes it appear that Malcolm Ford called to get money from his brother, and meeting with a refusal shot him. Dr. Baruch said that the murder was the result of temporary aberration on the part of Malcolm Ford, due to nervous exhaustion.

It is said that there was enmity between the two brothers and that it was of eleven years standing. This alleged enmity, on the part of Malcolm, is said to have been brought about by the fact that the father of the boys disinherited Malcolm and that this action on the father's part was because he did not wish Malcolm to devote himself to an athletic career.

Police Captain Brown said that Malcolm had for some time been causing much uneasiness to the family through evidences of an unbalanced mind.

"The case of Malcolm Ford's action," said Captain Brown, "can be explained by inference. For some time past his financial affairs have been pressing him and he has repeatedly asked and received material assistance from his brother. It is presumed that his importuning had been such and his demand so excessive that his brother had been forced to refuse further aid."

Paul Leicester Ford was 37 years old, a novelist of much note, "Janice Meredith" being perhaps his most popular novel. He was married about a year ago to Miss Grace Kidder, a daughter of Edward H. Kidder of Brooklyn. He was the son of Gordon Leicester Ford, of Brooklyn, who died eleven years ago and left an estate of some $2,000,000 divided between his children, with the exception of Malcolm W., who was disinherited by the will. Mr. Ford is the author of "The Hon. Peter Sterling," "The Great K. and A. Train Robbery," "The True George Washington," "The Many Sided Franklin" (which ran serially in the Century), "Tattle Tales of Cupid," "Janice Meredith," which ran serially in the Bookman-1899, and a collection of short stories. He also edited the writings of Thomas Jefferson in two volumes; the writings of John Dickinson in three volumes, and numerous other works relating to American history and biography. He was a member of the Players, Reform and Grolier clubs, the Century association and Sons of the Revolution.

Malcolm W. Ford was born in Brooklyn, 1862. He was educated at the Brooklyn Polytechnic institute. He took up athletics while at school and for a number of years won championships in this country and Canada in the 100 yard run, 220 yard run and quarter mile run as well as for the 100 yard and 220 yard hurdles, running broad and high jumps. He was the all around amateur champion for half a dozen years. He was so passionately fond of athletics that he is said to have neglected everything else to devote time to running and jumping. He married a daughter of Robert Graves, a wall paper manufacturer, but they were divorced. He was a member of the Lawyers club.

It was decided last night at a family council that the two brothers should be buried together. The funeral will be held Saturday from the residence. The bodies were laid out together in adjoining upper rooms of the house. Malcolm Ford leaves a son of about 7 years.

It was said at the apartment house in which Malcolm lived that he had talked frequently of late of being in financial difficulties and that things were "going wrong down town." There it was known that he was the editor of the "New Century," a monthly devoted to the interests of the automobile and published by the New Century Publishing company. On Tuesday the company failed and a receiver was appointed. The failure of the company would explain to an extent Malcolm Ford's pressing need for funds.

To Be Buried Together.

New York, May 9.—The bodies of Malcolm W. and Paul Leicester Ford, both well known to the world, one as an athlete and the other as an author, are lying side by side in a room in the mansion at No. 37 East 75th street where the tragedy occurred. The brothers will be buried together on Saturday. The five year old son of the fratricide, Malcolm Ford, Jr., will be cared for by the Ford family. The family issued a statement today in which they declared that Malcolm W. Ford killed his brother during a period of temporary insanity and then he took his own life. The statement is also made that Malcolm's affairs had recently been oppressing him and that he had repeatedly asked his brother for aid.

Mrs. Ford Improving Today.

New York, May 9.—Cripple as he was, Paul Leicester Ford was an amazing worker. He wrote in his 37 busy years nearly one hundred volumes in all. VEST CLEARS UP A POINT IN HISTORY

Deep Silence When the Aged Senator Tells of Conference at Hampton Roads.

CARTE BLANCHE NOT GIVEN BY MR. LINCOLN.

GAVE WARNING TO STEPHENS.

War President Informed Southerners He Would Accept Nothing But Unconditional Surrender.

Washington, May 9.—In response to some statements made by Mr. Tillman, Mr. Vest of Missouri, in the Senate yesterday delivered a forceful and effective speech and made an historical contribution with reference to the Hampton Roads conference being made between President Lincoln and William H. Seward, secretary of state, and Alexander H. Stephens, vice president of the Confederate States; R. M. T. Hunter, former United States senator, and John A. Campbell, formerly justice of the United States supreme court. Mr. Tillman had said that President Lincoln wrote upon a piece of paper, "Save the Union," then handing it to Stephens, said: "Alex, take this paper and fill up for yourselves the conditions of peace between the two countries."

Mr. Vest said the story had been denied by John H. Reagan of Texas, who was the last surviving member of the Confederate cabinet.

He knew personally, said Mr. Vest, without having been present at that celebrated interview, that the incident was without the slightest foundation. "If true," said he, "it would place the government and officers of the Confederate States in the category of criminals, because it offered the Confederacy all that it ever demanded in the wildest hope of the most extreme partisans of that cause if they would only return to the Union."

A deep silence had fallen upon the chamber and every senator on the floor listened to him with rapt attention. With great deliberateness he continued:

"If true it would mean that the Confederates could have placed in that sheet of paper the perpetual establishment of slavery and the right of secession, the most extreme demand that had ever taken locality even in the dream of any Confederate."

From the lips of Stephens and Hunter had come to him, he said, the details of what took place. Upon the return of the commissioners of the confederacy he heard their official report as Mr. Reagan heard it, he being a member of the cabinet and the speaker a member of the Confederate senate. "I am today the only surviving member of the 26 gentlemen who acted as Confederate senators," he said.

Mr. Vest then stated what did happen at Hampton Roads beyond question was this: That when the President and Secretary Seward met the commissioners of the Confederacy, Mr. Lincoln, addressing himself to Mr. Hunter, whom he knew well, said: "In the first place, gentlemen, I desire to know what are your powers and instructions from the Richmond government," avoiding, said Mr. Vest, as Mr. Hunter told him himself, the words "Confederate States."

Mr. Hunter, to whom the inquiry was addressed, said: "Mr. President, we are instructed to consider no proposition that does not involve the independence of the Confederate States of America."

"Then," said Mr. Lincoln, "the interview had as well terminate now. For I must say to you gentlemen, frankly and honestly, that nothing will be accepted from the government at Richmond except absolute and unconditional surrender."

Mr. Vest said that this terminated the interview and as the Confederate commissioners retired President Lincoln, to Vice President Stephens, who was the last to go out, said: "Stephens, you are making a great mistake. Your government is a failure and when the crash comes, as it soon must, there will be chaos and disasters which we can not now foresee, which must come to your people."

"This account of that interview," continued Mr. Vest, "substantially and almost word for word, as I have given it, came to me from Mr. Stephens and Mr. Hunter."

Mr. Vest said that he considered it his duty to make this statement in order that history may not be falsified; in order that the men who were said to have refused this offer at the hands of President Lincoln should not be made to sin in their graves, adding:

"For if they had refused what was said to have been tendered to them by the President they would have been accessories to the murder of every man who fell from that time in defense of the Confederate cause, and they should have given the lie to the intentions which they professed when they risked everything, everything that is held dear among men, in defense of the Confederate cause."

While the deep silence still reigned in the chamber as he spoke and with every eye directed toward him, Mr. Vest concluded as follows: "It may be but a very short time until I shall join the 25 colleagues I had in the Confederate Senate, and I did not want this statement to go into the record of this country without my statement of these facts and my solemn denial that there is a shadow of truth in this assertion, which has been going the round of the newspapers of the country for the last few years."

NOVEL

DEFENSE TO BE MADE BY THE PACKERS.

CHARGES TO BE ADMITTED BUT WRONG DOING DENIED.

According to the Advance Information. Claim that the Packers' Actions Were Lawful.

Chicago, May 9.—The packers have determined on a novel line of defense in the injunction suit to be brought by the Government.

All along they have claimed their actions have been lawful. Vigorous denials have been made that a trust exists or that any concerted attempts have been made to force prices up or down. Under the circumstances they will not make any attempt to balk the Government, except so far as the legal effect of the charges may extend. This means that the bill will be fought on a demurrer, so that the law may be clearly defined as it applies to the actual charges. Then the packers will say: "We have nothing to conceal. These are our methods of business. They have been carried on for many years. We contend they are legal in every point. Our attorneys have advised us to this effect, and we have relied on their judgment. If you think otherwise, the matter comes down to a question of law, which must be argued in Court. It is academic and has nothing to do with business honesty."

When the answer of the packers is filed it will deny every charge of wrong-doing, while admitting many of the facts alleged by the Government. That the fight will settle down to a legal attack on the bill itself and the validity of the Sherman anti-trust law is already apparent by the array of legal talent ready to meet the Government's representatives.

Before the investigation is through the cause of the monopoly of the meat markets may be traced to Chauncey M. Depew and other Eastern capitalists, who were directors of the stock yard company as late as 1900. The agreement of the packers with the company prevents them from establishing stock yards of their own in Chicago, and leaves them to a great extent at the mercy of their landlord. This is one of the effects of corporations owning real estate for speculative purposes.

TORTURE INFLECTED ON GIRLS

Startling Testimony Given in Columbus By Witnesses Today.

JUDGE TAYLOR OF NEWARK IS A WITNESS.

CRUELITIES AT GIRLS' SCHOOL.

Former Inmate Tells of Agony Suffered in Straitjacket—Dirty Water Thrown in Girls' Faces.

Columbus, O., May 9.—Today's session of the investigation of cruel treatment of girls at the Girls' Industrial school of Delaware was conducted in the office of the state Board of Charities here in Columbus today. Superintendent Stiles and his counsel were present.

Judge Waldo Taylor of Newark, was the first witness today. The Judge said he had sent four girls to the Home but had never been there himself. He said that two of the girls were Alice Dewees and Lillian Martin. They were sent from Licking county, about a year ago but Supt. Stiles refused to receive them. At this Judge Taylor wrote him a sharp letter of remonstrance. It appeared from the testimony that a spy correspondence took place between Judge Taylor and Supt. Stiles resulting in the latter coming to Columbus to get an opinion from the attorney general sustaining him in his action.

Ira Kutz of Marion, a former inmate of the institution, gave some sensational testimony today as to her punishment in the home. She said she had been twice in a straight jacket and she described the agonies suffered in the punishment. She said that her father had told her that he had paid $1.50 a week to somebody at the institution, she did not know to whom, to secure for her better treatment than was given to other inmates. She testified regarding the punishment of Rubie Gregory, another inmate, who the witness said, was dosed with water in the face by two female attendants and held standing up and also lying down. She also said that on one occasion she and another girl were made to carry water upstairs for use in cleaning floors and after this was used the water was taken up in mops and was subsequently used to throw into the faces of the girls who were being punished.

Other testimony along the same line of cruel practices at the Delaware school were given at the session this afternoon.

Yesterday's Session at Delaware.

Delaware, Ohio, May 9.—What tortures were inflicted on the girl, Norah Ferris before she was found dead in a straight jacket, bound to the bars of her cell in the Girls' Industrial School? As the investigation by Governor Nash's committee progresses the horrid retrospect of the long hidden tragedy broadens in its suggestions of inhumanity toward the helpless victim whose life was sacrificed.

The testimony is as startling as unexpected. A child confined in the same cottage as Norah Ferris, charged as Norah Ferris was, with feigning insanity was subjected to treatment shockingly similar to the now infamous "water cure" of the Philippines. Two attendants held her while the superintendent of the Home dashed cold water into her face for more than three-quarters of an hour. She was subjected to this ordeal three times within twelve hours. It came as the climax to a series of punishments which included repeated beatings with a wooden ruler, the use of the straight jacket and continued confinement in the "strong room." After that, upon the testimony of a witness of highest credibility, she was never again her normal self.

These facts are testified to by Miss Bruce, an instructress in the Ohio Wesleyan University, who, herself, Continued on 6th page, 5th column.

SENATORIAL REPORTEER.

In the discussion on the Philippine question in the Senate yesterday a little passage took place between Senators Carmack of Tennessee, and Foraker of Ohio, in which the following occurred:

"There are not and can not be," declared Mr. Carmack, "any extenuating circumstances for the murder of a whole people, including women and children."

Mr. Carmack declared that the United States was entering on a century of constant warfare, for no other result than that a few carpetbag thieves might have opportunity to rob the people of the Philippine Islands as they used to rob the people of the South.

Mr. Foraker interrupted to inquire if Mr. Carmack thought it was the purpose of President McKinley in taking over the Philippine Islands to provide a theater of scoundrelism.

Mr. Carmack replied that McKinley's purpose was that of "Benovolent Assimilation." The purpose of the Republican party now is malevolent dissimulation.

President Roosevelt has declared that the Republic has put its flag in the Philippines, and it "will stay there—it will stay put." Wonder if this is an everlasting edict, and if so, where the President gets authority to proclaim. The Republic "puts its flag" in the "Gem of the Antilles," but it did not stay there and on the twentieth of May it will be hauled down and give place to the flag of free and independent Cuba, without a dissenting voice among the American people. In fact the hauling down of the American flag in Cuba, as the symbol of our sovereignty, is something the American people are very proud of, as maintaining the plighted faith of the Republic. If "the flag will stay in the Philippines" it should stand for the same thing as in all the Territories of the United States.

WHERE THE RESPONSIBILITY BELONGS.

Senator Lodge's declaration that "the honor of the army is the honor of the people" is true in a fashion quite different from that in which he stated the proposition.

The honor of the army, the honor of a nation and the honor of an individual cannot be protected and preserved by ignoring the things which compromise that honor and by assailing in ruffianly fashion all who show wherein that honor is menaced or smirched.

It is because the American people are very careful about the honor of the army that they want to know how the army is being used.

Secretary Root has assumed that this matter was none of their business. He has suppressed and mutilated reports and he has insulted and reprimanded officers who undertook to make the truth known.

Mr. Root and his senatorial spokesman are very solicitous all at once about the honor of the army. When the army is employed only as it should be—in making war upon the armed enemies of the United States—its honor will need no defense.

So far as the organization has suffered at all in the estimation of mankind the despotic practices of Elihu Root are responsible for it.

Getting at the Truth.

(Chicago Chronicle.)

Secretary Root has graciously permitted the publication of the dispatch from General Chaffee expressing regret that thirty-five Moro prisoners, who were disarmed, were shot down while attempting to escape.

General Chaffee quotes a dispatch from General Davis stating that eighty-four Moro prisoners who were sitting on an open hilltop surrounded by a strong guard suddenly sprang up and rushed down the hill, when the guard and one company opened fire without orders and killed thirty-five of the number. The others, excepting nine, who were captured, escaped.

The noteworthy thing about this is that Secretary Root has been so good as to give all this to the public without waiting to have it extracted by the main strength of a resolution from one house or the other of congress.

For this burst of confidence in the American people on the part of the despotic secretary of war we have to thank the democratic minority in the senate and a few indignant republicans in both houses.

The administration and its supporters in congress and the republican newspapers with some honorable exceptions have been proceeding on the theory that the American people have no right to know what is being done in their name to the natives of islands some ten thousand miles away, and that it is not only impertinent but unpatriotic for them to ask for information.

OUR HEROES DEPRIVED OF A WORTHY HONOR.

The refusal of President Roosevelt to sanction the proposed act of the French government to confer the cross of the Legion of Honor on our two great heroes, Admiral Dewey and General Miles, has caused a sensation in military circles at Washington. The French ambassador, M. Cambon, it appears, notified the President that France desired to commemorate the ceremonies connected with the unveiling of the Rochambeau statue to occur on May 24, and she believed it would be a successful act of courtesy to select prominent Americans for membership in her Legion of Honor. The head of the navy and army in rank were chosen as the most fitting persons to receive the honor. There were conferences on the subject. The President expressed much surprise. After conferring with Secretary Hay and Secretary Root and a few others the President came to the conclusion that it would be unwise to consent to the decoration of two officers whom he reprimanded and one of whom was upon terms of hostility with his administration—at least, this is the explanation of friends of General Miles and Admiral Dewey. When the ambassador next called at the White House he was informed that the decision had been reached not to consent to conferring the honor upon either officer. In view of the fact that congress and not the executive, is empowered to determine whether an officer of the government shall receive a decoration from a foreign government, the decision of the President will undoubtedly cause a stir in the capitol. Both the admiral and general have many friends in the Senate and House who will be inclined to take up the matter and press it if allowed to do so. In the meantime Dewey and Miles say nothing.

They have assumed that if wholesale slaughter, cruel torture and many other things contrary to the accepted laws of civilized warfare were perpetrated in their name and in pursuance of orders nobody but the men who gave the orders and executed them have any right to know the facts.

The minority in congress is entitled to credit for insisting on adherence to the time-honored principles and practices of the republic.

It is entitled to credit for dragging to light the secrets of war department despotism.

It is entitled to credit for disclosing the fact that there are secrets in this Philippine business not at all creditable to the country.

It is entitled to credit for frightening the administration into a disclosure of some of the ugly facts which prove that an irresponsible despotism is exercised in the name of the American people over millions of human beings by men who prefer to conceal their facts from those in whose name they exercise their despotic power.

How much more remains to be disclosed can only be conjectured. We may infer a good deal from the statement of Senator Lodge, spokesman for the administration, that over three hundred officers and men have been tried by court-martial recently for cruelty to the natives of the islands, but the whole truth, which the people have a right to know, will never be brought to light until we have a democratic congress and administration.

(Philadelphia North American.)

All good natured folk, who like to see other people happy, will be glad that President Roosevelt enjoys the strenuous life. During the next two years he is likely to have all the strenuous in his existence that the most ardent appetite could desire. He has not yet heard the last of the Miles controversy, and behind the Philippine commercial cases there loom large and lurid possibilities of an army row. But these are mere squabbles behind the battle he has invited by locking horns with the beef trust and the railroad merger. If he is in earnest in that fight—and there is no reason to suppose that he is not—it will give him all the opportunity for strenuous exertion that he is capable of making.

An Ordinance.

DOAN'S Kidney Pills

CURE Sick Kidneys—Cure every Kidney Ill—Cure Kidney "bad backs." Ever have a bad back? A back that ached like a toothache? A back so lame and painful all day, so weak and played out at night, that life was one long drawn out misery? Any backache is bad enough, but Kidney backache has its danger and should never be neglected. Backache is the Kidneys' warning. Neglect it and many serious troubles follow. Profit in time by the experience of people you know. Here is the best of evidence.

Newark Proof

Chestnut St.

J. W. Lippincott, No. 83 Chestnut street, says: "I was troubled a good deal with rheumatism and a pain right through my back more like the thrust of a knife than anything else I can compare it to. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at Crayton's Drug Store. Their effect was really wonderful. They drove away the pain out of both of my sides, there was not a trace of it left. I could stoop at will, lift weight, yet feel as supple as ever I felt."

N. Fifth St.

Mrs. B. Donahue, 16 North Fifth street, says: "For quite a long time my kidneys were very much affected and I had a heavy feeling across the lower part of my abdomen which made me miserable. Pain across the small of my back was often so acute that I was hardly able to move around and a distressing and annoying urinary weakness accompanied it. A friend of mine whom by using Doan's Kidney Pills had been cured of backache, advised me to try them. I took the advice and obtained a box at Crayton's Drug Store. First the kidneys were stimulated to a healthy and natural action, then the backache and general feeling of depression left me."

ALL THE LIFE—ALL THE ENERGY—ALL THE AMBITION
DISAPPEARS WHEN THE BACK BEGINS TO ACHE!

Get what you ask for. Get DOAN'S. Don't accept something "just as good." Most druggists sell Doan's Kidney Pills and will give you what you call for. Some may endeavor to substitute an article they make more profit on. Insist on having the genuine. Price 50 cents. Manufactured by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

DOAN'S Kidney Pills

CURE Kidney and Bladder Ills—Cure annoying Urinary troubles which interfere with daily duties, disturb your rest at night, which are forerunners of dangerous Diabetes and early symptoms of Bright's disease. When the Kidneys fail in their work—when their fibrous filters become clogged, urinary troubles follow. Watch the urinary discharges—when unnatural in color—when passage is painful, infrequent or too frequent, it's time to help the Kidneys or look out for Rheumatism, Dropsy, Diabetes, Bright's Disease. Don't experiment, take a remedy tried and tested by people you know.

Newark Proof

Shuler St.

Mrs. J. T. Purcell, No. 315 Shuler street, says: "My back ached all the time. As a rule it was very severe, but it hurt much more when I overexerted myself or occupied certain positions in which my back was strained considerably or when I was sitting sewing. I obtained a little benefit from the treatment which I took, so I tried the fact that I was induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills, which Crayton Bros. first advertised them in Newark. They did for me what others failed to do, for they took away from my back that distressing pain and ache. I know of friends of mine who were as much the gainer through their use as I."

Mill St.

Mr. Albert Wood of 115 Mill street, yard switchman on the D. & O. R. R. says: "I had pain in my back just across the kidneys. It was rather new experience for me, but I did not have it long, because I went to Crayton's drug store and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They took all the pain out of my back. I conscientiously advise others to take them."

PROGRAM

At Plymouth Congregational Church on Thursday Evening Was Much Enjoyed.

There was a fair audience at the Plymouth church last night to hear the program given by the Ladies' Association of the church. A short program was given after which ice cream and cake were served. The program was as follows:

Song, by the audience, "Blessed be the Tie."

Mrs. J. F. Williams the secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and a report of the work done by the twelve chairmen which was approved.

This was followed by an address by Mayor C. C. Forry, upon the subject, "Some Experiences of a Young Lawyer." Mr. Forry said the experience of a young lawyer has both a comic and a serious side. He gave some personal experiences and some common to all lawyers. The address was much appreciated by the audience. Mr. Walter Daly played a pretty solo with his cornet. Mrs. Morse C. Rose sang a beautiful solo and Prof. Bailey gave two selections with his banjo. The program was enjoyed by all and everybody had a pleasant evening.

Try Mrs. Austin's Quick Lunch Tapioca, the new dessert. Ready in a minute, no soaking required. All grocers sell it.

Queen and Crescent. Fast line to Birmingham and New Orleans. Two fast trains daily.

COLUMBUS—The Patterson Board of Elections' ripper was defeated in the Senate Thursday. This measure contemplated to give new Boards of Superintendents to Cincinnati, Toledo, Columbus and Dayton. The Senators passed a bill appropriating $9000 to have their pictures and biographies published in book form at the expense of the state. The Gear bill to increase the tax on cigarettes was indefinitely postponed.

STRANGE WOMAN

Aboard the Tug Which Sunk a Naphtha Launch Off Toledo Say the Passengers.

Toledo, O., May 9.—The last of the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the river disaster has been recovered. Two of the bodies were found wedged in the naphtha launch. There were all kinds of reports in circulation regarding the accident. Miss Grace Marks and her brother, two of the survivors, positively state that the launch carried a light at her bow. Parties standing on the Ironville dock say they could plainly see the launch passing before the collision, out in the river 150 feet away! The launch was painted white.

Captain Tradeau caused quite a sensation by stating that he noticed a strange and mysterious woman leaving the tug Woods when she reached the Ironville dock after the collision. Other persons claim to have noticed this woman get off the tug, their attention being called to her on account of her clothing being perfectly dry. It is also stated that the woman was followed to a saloon where she had several drinks and then she stated that she was aboard the tug when the collision took place.

Captain Pitts emphatically denies any knowledge of a woman being aboard the tug. He claims enemies started the report to injure him. The Ironville parties say the woman stepped off the tug at a dark spot on the dock and suddenly disappeared.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Most Sensational Scene in Federation's History is Witnessed at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—Officers were elected at the last session of the sixth biennial of the General Federation of Women's clubs yesterday. The election, which was full of dramatic incident, resulted in the acceptance by ballot of the entire report of the nominating committee as follows:

President, Mrs. Dimas T. S. Denison, New York; first vice president, Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, California; second vice president, Mrs. Emma Fox, Michigan; recording secretary, Miss Louise Pappenheim, South Carolina; treasurer, Mrs. Emma Van Vechten, Iowa; auditor, Mrs. George Noyes, Wisconsin; directors, Mrs. Anna D. West, Mass.; Mrs. J. C. Terrill, Texas; Mrs. Jane Humphrey, Kansas; Mrs. Lydia Williams, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Samuel Hayes, Idaho; Mrs. William Elliott, Maryland; Mrs. W. W. Boyd, of Missouri; Mrs. W. A. Neldon, Utah.

The scene at the election of president was easily the most sensational in the history of the federation. Those who at three biennials have clamored to have Mrs. Platt Decker of Colorado, their leader, were roused to enthusiasm at the mention of her name by Mrs. Gellauer of Ohio, who made the nominating speech. Mrs. Decker arose in the gallery, where she had sat with the Colorado delegation, and with earnestness declined the honor.

Many of Mrs. Decker's admirers voted for her anyway, the vote standing 667 for Mrs. Denison and 258 for Mrs. Decker.

The retiring president, Mrs. Rebecca T. of Georgia, dwelt in her address on the wonderful progress that had been made by the federation.

Hundred Couples Went Through Wedding Ceremony and Now They Are Worried.

New York, May 9.—Great consternation among the members of the Jewish society at Yonkers has been the outcome of the recent Purim bill. During the evening 100 couples went through a mock marriage ceremony. Now the rabbi who officiated is said to have declared that the couples so married are bound in the eye of the church and, therefore, in the eye of the law. The young people are at their wits' end to decide whether or not they are really married. The rabbis are expected to have a consultation, and their collective decision is to settle the matter.

The Next Meeting of Auctioneers Will be Held—Mr. Seward Home Rather Monotonous.

W. C. Seward, who has been in attendance at the State convention of auctioneers held in Bucyrus on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 7 and 8, has returned home. Mr. Seward says that there were about forty of the most prominent auctioneers of the State in attendance at the convention, and that there was a good, lively meeting. Mr. Seward also said that the next convention of the auctioneers will be held in Newark on the first Wednesday and Thursday of next May.

WASHINGTON PLANS FOR A BIG ENCAMPMENT.

Preparations to Make the Coming Meeting the Greatest in the Organization's History.

Washington, May 9.—From calculations made by the officers of the local citizens' committee and Quartermaster General Burroughs of the G. A. R., it is concluded that the crowd in attendance at the 1902 encampment of the Grand Army in this city will surpass that of any previous reunion or any gathering of any nature in the national capital.

The interest among the veterans generally, according to General Burroughs, is notably greater than ever before. There is in his judgment every sign that the attendance will not only be greater in the number of individuals from each post, but in the presence of many posts as organizations which have never before attended an annual encampment.

But the better gauge, in the opinion of encampment officials is that the number of reservations for quarters has never been so great as it is now—about five months before the encampment—until a few weeks before the veterans were to assemble. Anticipating that such would be the case, the local citizens' committee has already been at work about six weeks arranging months ahead of time for the accommodation of the greatest number of visitors the city can possibly hold. All these preparations are now in excellent shape. As special features of the encampment it is proposed to decorate all the public buildings on a scale hitherto unattempted, to erect a court of honor in front of the White House, to have parades of the regular army, the militia, the Sons of Veterans, in addition to that of the veterans, to have a military pageant representing the successive wars of the United States, to dedicate a monument to Dr. E. H. Stephenson, founder of the G. A. R., and to lay the cornerstone of the memorial bridge across the Potomac, between the Washington monument grounds and Arlington cemetery. This last project rests on proposed action by Congress. President Roosevelt has manifested the most hearty approval of the encampment preparations and states he will so shape his plans as to assist in every way possible.

HYPNOTISM

BY TELEPHONE ACCOMPLISHED IN NEWARK.

Prof. Lawrence H. Kenner Gave an Exhibition in Mayor's Office—Doctors Were Present.

Hypnotism by telephone is an accomplished fact, and its practical demonstration was witnessed this morning by a committee consisting of three well known and reputed physicians and others. The operator was Professor Lawrence Kenner of Houston, Texas, and he chose for his subject a young man named William Lloyd of 29 Wilson street.

Mr. Lloyd went to the receiver of the telephone in Mayor Forry's office while Kenner was at the other end of the line at Kuster's. In the Mayor's office were Drs. W. H. Knauss, C. F. Legge and R. W. DeCrow. Mayor C. C. Forry, Attorney E. S. Randolph, Dr. J. H. McCahon, Matt Smith, Mr. McCann, Will D. Harris of the American Tribune, and an Advocate reporter.

The first attempt on account of other voices on the line was unsuccessful and the professor came over and personally hypnotized Lloyd. He then repeated the experiment from Kuster's, this time with perfect success.

The subject stood erect at the telephone until he came under the subtle influence, when he dropped the receiver and would have fallen to the floor, if the physician had not caught him.

Many severe tests were made and all present will vouch that Lloyd was absolutely under the spell of Kenner's mysterious power.

The professor is trying to make arrangements to give an exhibition at the Auditorium.

AMERICANS AT OXFORD.

British Prediction of Their Influence on the University.

The few Americans who are now to be found at Oxford and Cambridge are of two classes, says the London Speaker. There are the sons of rich men affected by a more or less acute form of Anglomaniia, who are often more English than the English undergraduates themselves. These may be ignored, for they will not want to participate in Mr. Rhodes' scheme. The second class, and it is a very small one, consists of the sons of English born parents who have settled in America, but wish to maintain English traditions. The sons themselves possibly do not, but I believe that nearly all the new scholarships will go to Americans the traditions of whose families are largely English.

I have never heard of a pure bred American who came to Oxford or Cambridge merely because he thought or his parents thought that he could get a better education at those universities than he could at home. And I believe that the pure bred American with no English ax to grind who would come to Oxford for his degree and then go back to his own country will be as rare when Mr. Rhodes' scheme comes into effect as he is now. But in any case the result will be the same, for what ever their fathers may be American sons of English parents are as American as anybody, and they are not likely to forget their nationality when they find themselves at Oxford.

You will have, then, in Oxford a hundred young Americans glorying in their nationality—glorying, that is, in being unlike the other young men who now, to use a phrase, own the place. They will bring with them ideas of what university life should be like drawn from their knowledge of what university life is in the United States. They may be very good ideas, but they will not be the ideas of Oxford. The Americans will form themselves into a society and will try to push those ideas, and they will not do it very quietly, for those are the ways of young Americans. The men who own the place will resist them very tenaciously at first and with immense scorn and dislike. And there will probably be a good deal of trouble, which will bind the newcomers still more closely together. Finally I believe that the American ideas of what a thoroughly up to date university should be like socially will make way, and Oxford will to some extent be Americanized.

BOY PLEADS FOR BOERS.

Ten-year-old Lad Will Present Quaint Petition to Roosevelt.

Heelan Emmett Jasper Greene is the name of a ten-year-old Omaha boy who has set about securing the signatures of 20,000 Iowa and Nebraska school-children on a petition which he will present in person to President Roosevelt, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. The petition is as follows:

Dear Mr. President.—We ask you to tell the English not to kill the Boer children in the Transvaal. Please tell them that the United States does not like such things. Do this, Mr. President, for we, the undersigned, want to let the English know that we do not like the war against the Boers.

Heelan is the son of a blacksmith and found his inspiration one night while he was listening to his father read accounts of the South African war from the newspapers. He is a small chap, popular with his school-mates, but inclined more to work than to play. Although working entirely alone, he has already secured more than 10,000 names. He plans to go to Washington early in June.

Young Greene is of patriotic descent, tracing relationship with Sergeant Jasper, who, on June 28, 1776, in a fight with Sir Peter Parker's fleet at Fort Moultrie, distinguished himself by recovering the colors which had been shot away, leaping over an embrasure and holding the flag aloft on a sponge staff until another flagmast was secured. For this he was signally rewarded by Governor Rutledge.

"WATER CURE" FOR PESTS.

Iowa Farmer's Ingenious Device to Get Rid of Gophers.

E. C. Williams of Palmyra, near Clinton, Ia., a farmer, tried the "water cure" on gophers on his farm, and the experiment proved so successful that he slaughtered 206 of the pests, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. His method was a novel one. He hitched a team of horses to a wagon on which was a large water tank. To the tank he fastened a hose and drove over the farm. Whenever he found a gopher hole he inserted the hose and turned on the water, driving the little animals out, which were then captured by a couple of dogs. But few escaped.

The farmers throughout the country near Palmyra are complaining of the pest and say the fields are overrun with them. They increase in numbers each year and work great damage to the corn, which they dig out of the ground and eat just as it is beginning to sprout. These gophers have long been worrying the farmers, who realize that some method of exterminating them must be employed, and Farmer Williams' "water cure" appears to be the most feasible plan.

A New Fad.

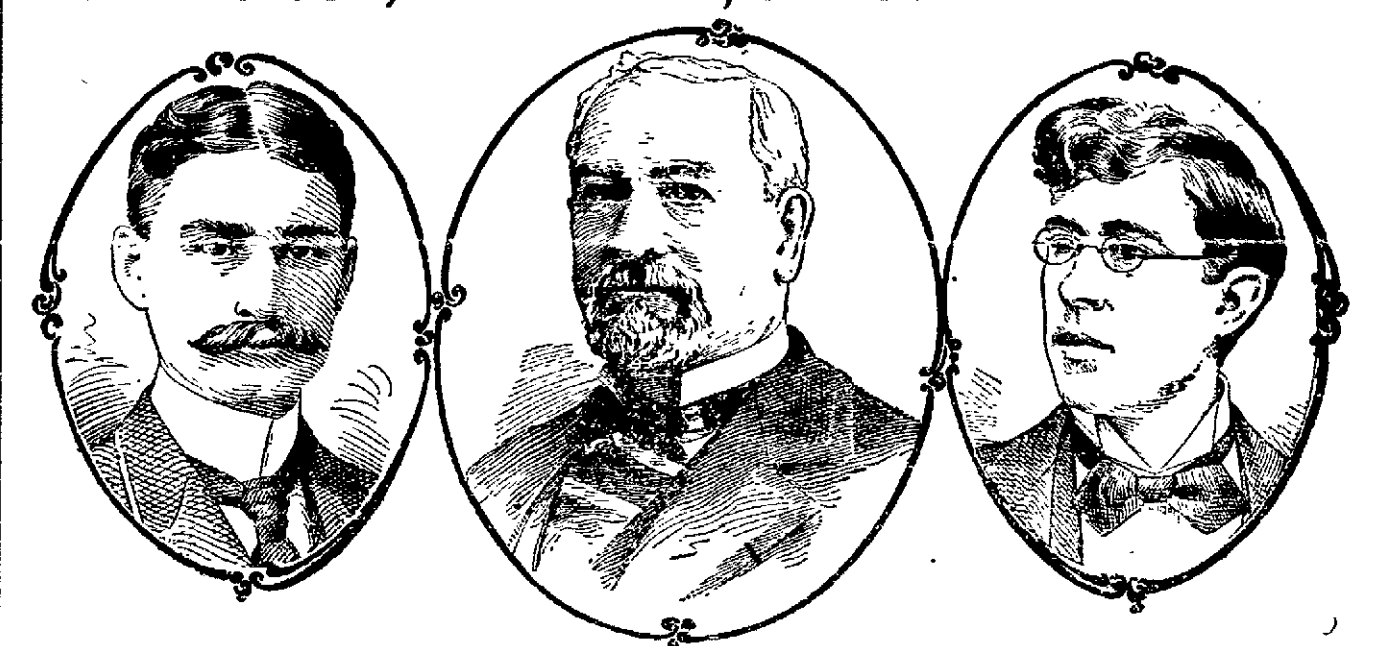

For faddists one idea just budding into popularity is to devote a corner of a drawing room or library to artistic calendars, painted in oil or water colors, says the Chicago News. A literary series includes portraits of Shakespeare, Dickens and Kipling, the dates being interwoven with quotations from these authors. Another collection shows four sheets of cardboard each having a handsomely mounted scene illustrative of spring, summer, autumn or winter.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Attended Ascension Day Services at St. Paul's Church, Rev. J. C. Schindel Spoke.

The Ascension Day services at St. Paul's English Lutheran church Thursday evening, were attended by an unusually large number of the members of St. Luke's Commandery, Knights Templar, under whose auspices they were held.

The impressive ritual service was given and Rev. J. C. Schindel delivered an address on the theme, "Truth is Mighty and Must Prevail."

The music by Mesdames Annis Lawhead and C. W. Miller, and Messrs. Warden and Webber, was also very enjoyable.

MRS. J. R. HOPLEY

State President of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs is Complimented.

(Columbus Journal.)

That Ohio club women's exalted esteem for their state president, Mrs. James R. Hopley, is shared by all who have met her at the biennial, is well proven by this statement in the Los Angeles Times:

"The state president, Mrs. James R. Hopley of Columbus, is tall, stately and beautiful, and brilliant as she is distinguished looking. Of all the reports read during the afternoon, hers was probably the most polished in diction and sparkling in smart sayings. It was also full of meat, as showing what the club women of Ohio are doing. She said the Ohio federation was conservative rather than progressive, but its advice could generally be relied upon. They want to be sure they are right before they go ahead. She did not claim one dead level of common sense for them, and admitted that they sometimes had flights of fancy, but the fantastic element would find life in Ohio incongenial. The state has 303 clubs and harmony dwells among them as a familiar friend."

A GREAT WEEK

IN NEWARK BEGINNING WITH LABOR DAY.

Elks Have Just Made Contract for Some Splendid Amusements—Several Distinct Shows.

This morning the Amusement Committee for the Elks' Carnival, on the occasion of the State convention to be held here the first week in September, closed a contract with the Bostock-Perari Carnival company of Buffalo, N. Y., to exhibit in Newark that week. The securing of this great attraction, which was the premier amusement feature of the Pan American Exposition, was a master stroke on the part of the committee, and assures the people the greatest exhibition that ever visited Newark, acknowledged to be by far the best in existence.

The Bostock company comprises a number of distinct shows under separate canvasses. Included in the great feature will be the world famous Bostock wild animal show with 20 trained lions, besides tigers, leopards, bears and other denizens of forest and jungle, with untrained and developed to an almost human standard of intelligence. Also the "Crystal Maze," the "Beautiful Orient," with its elephants, camels and donkeys, the German village, Moorish palace, Ferris wheel, Venetian gondolas, the joy of the children at the "Pan" which takes six sixty-foot cars to transport, and Chiquita the wonderful Cuban dwarf, besides numerous other features. The entire company uses 18 cars for transportation.

The Elks' committee consists of Daniel Altshool, chairman, A. L. Thomas, W. C. Wells, F. J. Maurath, E. J. Koons, W. D. Fulton and the indefatigable Walter Scott.

YOUR STOMACH

Is The Cause Of Your Debilitated Condition.

When Out Of Order Everything Seems Wrong.

We have heard it said that 90% of all ills may be traced directly to the stomach. We believe this statement.

We know from personal experience, that there are many cases of debility, there are many people who are particularly susceptible to disease, there are hundreds who have even contracted consumption—simply because that greatest of all vital organs, the stomach, has not performed its important duty.

Be on the safe side and see that the action of the digestive functions is healthy. You cannot expect to maintain your normal weight, you need not hope to be well and strong, and it is easy to get run down, when the food which is intended to give you strength and health, and replace waste tissue, is not properly digested.

Let us tell you what Vinol will do for the stomach. It will enable that organ to obtain from the food which is eaten all the nourishment contained in that food.

You can see that when this has been done the rest of the body will look after itself.

Mrs. C. F. Lewis, 94 Pool Street, Biddleford, Maine, says:

"I had severe distress in my stomach, was dizzy and suffered from numb feeling. Several doctors whom I consulted, told me that I had heart trouble and that my kidneys were out of order. After coming to this city, I employed a doctor three months, but he did me no good. I was finally confined to my bed, when my daughter bought me a bottle of Vinol. After taking three bottles of it, I am now able to be about the house and attend to my household duties. My stomach is better and since the first bottle I have had no dizzy spells."

It is because we know Vinol will do all we claim for it and is a bona fide remedy, that we are always glad to guarantee its action and hold ourselves in readiness to refund the price of it to anyone not absolutely satisfied with its action.

A. H. Shubeth was arrested by Lieutenant Sutton and Officer Bell for threatening his wife with a hatchet.

Earl Hager and Clarence Drumm were arrested for fighting by Officers Glasmeier and Bailey.

YOUNGSTOWN—Through the intervention of J. W. Long, a prominent man, who was elected chairman, the committee of the Builders' exchange and Carpenters' union were brought together on the strike question, the men demanding an eight hour day with the same scale of wages, $2.75, as last year. After a long discussion, the contractors offered to advance wages to 34 cents an hour, nine hours to constitute a day. The carpenters took the matter under consideration and another conference will be held today, when it is probable a settlement will be reached.

PHILLION FELL

PROBABLY FATALITY HURT AT NASHVILLE, TENN.

Well Remembered in Newark, Where He Performed Remarkable Feat at Elks' Street Fair.

Thousands of Newark citizens will remember the thrilling feats of Achille Phillon, at the Elks street fair given in June, 1899 in the vacant lot corner of Locust and Second streets. Afternoon and evening the daring young performer would thrill great crowds when he walked on the wooden ball up a spiral way, then over the crowd on a cable and back again, descending the spiral at night in a blaze of electric lights and brilliant fire works. The young man was very companionable and made a number of acquaintances while here, who will regret to learn of an accident which befell him at Nashville, Tenn., Wednesday night.

While 5,000 people were viewing the feat at the Eagles' Carnival in that city the famous equilibrist fell from the cable at the top of the spiral tower, catching frantically at the cable and wires as he went through the air. Phillon's body struck the timbers of the platform below and his head hit the iron pointed tips of a ladder projecting from the platform, fracturing the bones in the right side of his face. He is seriously injured, perhaps fatally.

Phillon ascended the tower on the globe, reached the top of the tower and went out on the cable a distance of 30 or 40 feet. He had turned and was going back to descend the tower in the same manner. When within about ten feet of the tower the accident occurred. The globe, which is 12 inches in diameter, fell to one side of the cable and the equilibrist fell to the other.

As Phillon lost his balance he was seen to grab desperately at the cable but he failed to catch hold. The body turned in the air, and a few feet further he made an effort to catch at one of the wires fastened to the cable, but failed. About five feet from the ground his body struck the timbers of the tower and his head struck the iron tips of the ladder which was projecting from the main platform. Phillon was from Akron, Ohio.

WAPAKONETA—Buzz Vohees committed suicide by throwing himself under a moving engine on the Cincinnati Hamilton and Dayton railroad. Death was instantaneous, the body being cut entirely through and badly mangled. He was intoxicated and had been making threats to kill himself all day. He leaves a wife and three children.

DAYTON—Anna Wilson, arrested by the police here for the theft of a gold watch and diamond jewelry from a residence where she had secured employment as a domestic, is believed by the police to be Len Hoffmeyer or Henley, a noted female thief wanted in Rochester, N. Y., Detroit, Chicago and Toledo. She recently jumped $10,000 bail in Chicago. She seeks employment as a domestic and then steals. She came here from Columbus she says.

MT. VERNON—Mrs. Tom Bell is lying in a critical condition at her home in Morgan township, the result of an accident with which she met at her home while assisting her husband in driving a post in her dooryard. Mrs. Bell was nailing the post steady while Mr. Bell, who was standing upon a chair, was wielding a maul. The maul accidentally slipped from the top of the post and struck the woman a glancing blow upon the head. Her scalp was badly cut and she was rendered unconscious for several hours.

A conscientious woman will keep a secret even if she has to call in two or three friends to help her.

How Cheap Baking Powder Is Made

The health department of New York has seized a quantity of so-called cheap baking powder, which it found in that city. Attention was attracted to it by the low price at which it was being sold in the department stores. Samples were taken and the chemist of the Health Department reported the stuff to be "an alum powder," which analysis showed to be composed chiefly of alum and pulverized rock.

The powder was declared to be dangerous to health, and several thousand pounds were carted to the oval dock and destroyed.

It is unsafe to experiment with these so-called "cheap" articles of food. They are sure to be made from alum, rock, or other injurious matter in baking powders, the high-class, cream of tartar brands are the most economical because they go farther in use and are healthful beyond question.

DIVORCE

GRANTED TO PRETTY FAYNE MOORE IN DAKOTA.

HER HUSBAND IS IN PRISON IN YORK STATE.

Moore Protested, but Court Decided Against Him—The Famous Badger Case Recalled.

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 9.—Mrs. Fayne Moore of New York, has been granted a divorce from her husband, who is serving a 14 year sentence in New York state for attempting to work the badger game on the late Martin Mahon, a well known hotel man. When Moore was arrested his wife was also taken into custody, but Mahon declined to appear against her. For several months at the beginning of Moore's incarceration his wife remained devoted. Then she joined the chorus of a musical comedy in London where she apparently changed her mind, for her next move was a return to this country and the divorce suit on the ground of cruelty and that her husband is a criminal.

Moore protested against this suit by letter but the court decided against him.

GAVE UP WIFE

To His Rival at Scranton—Manager of German Opera House Parts With His Spouse.

Scranton, Pa., May 9.—Manager Rudolph Phillips of the Germania Theatre, New York, proved himself the personification of generosity in Police Court, when he surrendered his hand some wife to Actor Franz Erlau.

Mrs. Phillips, who is a large and stylishly dressed blonde, arrived Tuesday night accompanied by Erlau. A detective accompanying Phillips went to the hotel and arrested Erlau and Mrs. Phillips. When the arraignment took place Mrs. Phillips defiantly told her husband that she did not care for him any more.

Phillips then withdrew the proceedings on condition that his wife will not contest proceedings for divorce. Erlau is manager of a summer opera house in Scranton.

Old London Signs to Reappear.
The decision of the Lombard street bankers of London to celebrate the coronation of King Edward by reviving their ancient signs is likely to result in converting that home of money changes into a picturesque thoroughfare, says the Newcastle Chronicle. Some of these signs are quaint, and there is quite a store of interesting lore and legend associated with the origin of at least a large proportion of them. Among them are the balbut and hart, the ram, two bells and siren, bellows and bull, three angels, Bible and crown, fox and fleece, golden anchor, golden key, golden bolt, golden cross, three golden balls and many others, there being upward of 100 altogether. These devices are to be shown by means of electric light during the coronation week, but the idea is to keep the signs up permanently, and there is no question that they will be a welcome relief to the somewhat too sober stone fronts of the large banking houses.

China Orders Plows From Ireland.
A large order is at present being filled by an Irish firm of iron founders which is supplying no fewer than 15,000 Irish made plowshares for use in China, says the St. James Gazette. Already some 1,000 of these are on the way to their destination, having been shipped from Dublin via Liverpool. It is the first order of the kind ever placed in Ireland.

ELECTION

OF OFFICERS AT CONVENTION IN GRANVILLE.

Twenty-Eighth Annual Meeting of the Missionary Society Comes to a Close.—The Program.

Thursday morning's session of the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Zanesville Presbytery opened at Granville with praise service at 8:30 o'clock led by Mrs. Pierson, of Pataskala. This was followed by a talk on Freedmen by Mrs. F. D. Palmer of Pittsburg, general secretary for Freedmen. Mrs. Palmer told of what she wished from Ohio: Five scholarships for the Cotton Plant Institute in Arkansas, of $25 each; two sewing schools at $150 each; four scholarships in Biddle university for young men to be educated as doctors and dentists of $25 each, and one parochial school. Mrs. Palmer's talk was followed by a solo by Miss Bogardus of Mt. Vernon and roll call by Miss Smith, recording secretary, was responded to by delegates with Scripture texts.

The reports of the year's work were given by the Home and Foreign treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Johnson and Mrs. W. L. Prout.

Secretaries' reports were then listened to. Home Mission, Mrs. R. W. Colville, and Foreign Missions, Miss H. J. Kniseley. Mrs. Pierson, the secretary of literature told of the number of missionary magazines taken by the workers in the Presbytery and urged the need of better work being done by these helps.

A paper was read by Mrs. Elizabeth I. Moore of Granville on "The Liquor Traffic a Hindrance to Foreign Missions." The meeting adjourned to partake of a delightful lunch prepared by the ladies of the church.

The afternoon session convened at 1:30, devotional exercises being led by Mrs. M. L. Stevenson of Dresden. Young People's Hour conducted by Miss Bogardus, of Mt. Vernon, young people's secretary, was one of the most delightful features of the convention. Methods of work in the following various fields were discussed by the delegates and club members present: Foreign Mission, Dr. J. M. Swan, Canton, China; Home Mission, Rev. Thomas Stancliff, Weaverville, N. C.; Home Mission, Mr. F. S. Herndon, Tucson, Arizona; Freedmen, Brainard Institute, Chester, S. C.; Syrian Day Schools; Sitka Training School, Sitka, Alaska. It was found that each society had a special work wherein lay its secret of success.

Workers' Council was led by Mrs. Paris Brown in the place of Mrs. Scott whose name appeared on the program. Topics were, "Supreme Motive," Miss Black, Zanesville. "What Constitutes an Ideal Auxiliary President?" Mrs. J. M. Browne, of Newark. "Ideal Treasurer," Miss Ayers of Zanesville. "Secretary of Literature," Mrs. Pierson of Pataskala. "Efficient Delegate," Mrs. Stevenson of Dresden. "The United Study of Missions," Mrs. Pierson. "Wherein are We Benefited by Presbyterials," Mrs. Redman of Zanesville.

Several letters of great interest were read. Mrs. Dean, as chairman of the committee on resolutions gave her report, which was adopted. Report a committee on place of meeting, Mrs. Stevenson, chairman, accepted.

The report of the nominating committee, Mrs. S. F. Edgar, Mrs. T. M. Stevenson and Mrs. F. A. Liggitt was adopted, the following elected officers being the result:

President Emeritus, Mrs. H. G. O. Cary, Zanesville.

President, Mrs. R. B. Alsdorf, of Utica.

Recording Secretary, Miss Laura C. Smith, Adams Mills.

Cor. Secretaries, Miss Harriet Condit, Pataskala, Foreign Missions, and Mrs. R. W. Colville, Mt. Vernon, Home Missions.

Secretary of Literature, Mrs. R. B. Pierson Pataskala.

Young People's Secretary, Mrs. B. Linda M. Bogardus, Mt. Vernon.

Foreign Treasurer, Mrs. W. L. Prout Newark.

Home Treasurer, Mrs. J. K. Johnson Coshocton.

Honorary Vice Presidents, Mrs. Lydia Green, Granville, Mrs. Fain Browne and Mrs. Denman of Coshocton.

Vice Presidents Auxiliary for Young People: Mrs. John E. Dean, Newark; Mrs. C. H. Scott, Granville; Mrs. M. Robertson, Zanesville; Mrs. T. M. Stevenson, Dresden; Mrs. L. S. Boyce

On Street Cars.

A well known Doctor of Dental Surgery of this city has been serving as a bureau of intelligence for the street car company. A few days ago a lady was seen chasing a car. The conductor signaled the motorman to stop but he did not do so until the car had gone some distance and was stopped by another passenger wanting to get on. The "bureau" got the car to wait until the lady who was chasing the car to get aboard. She asked the conductor to wait until the other ladies could come and get on the car. The "bureau" insisted that the car leave up and get them. They came out and asked when the next car would have Newark and after arranging the matter for something less than ten minutes, decided to wait for the next car.

THEY'RE WONDERS.

Young Married Man's Comment on the Feminine Riddle.

"Say," remarked a young married man, "they're wonders, ain't they?"

"Yesterday my wife got out of bed and ate about half a pound of chocolate cream candies, the remains of a box that I'd fetched home the evening before. After that she didn't want any breakfast, but she drank a couple of cups of coffee. She went shopping in the morning, and while shopping she drank a strawberry soda and a chocolate ice cream soda. For lunch she had a glass of milk, a couple of chocolate eclairs, a piece of hot mince pie and some candy. Then she went shopping some more and stopped at a counter where a woman was 'demonstrating' some new kind of pickles. My wife ate about six of those pickles. Then she flitted on to another 'demonstrating' counter and went up against a plate of some newfangled cereal covered with shrup. Then she had a raspberry soda. Then she ate a little dish of some new kind of canned salmon that some 'demonstrator' pushed in her direction. Then she went to the matinee, consuming during the performance about a pound of peanut brittle. When I got home, I found her lying down, suffering from a bad headache.

"Now I wonder," said she to me, "what in the world could have given me a headache?"

"About a month ago she had a cold that I was afraid was going to develop into pneumonia. She started it by going shopping during slushy, raw weather in paper soled low shoes and thin silk stockings. Then she stood for ten minutes in the basement arway in her bare head and with a thin house jacket on and house slippers, telling the washerwoman how she wanted the clothes done up. Then she took a red-hot bath and dressed immediately and went right out to buy the Sunday dinner, standing outside the market house for an hour or so talking with the women friends she met. Then she went to the theater with me, against my solemn protest, wearing nothing on her head but an aigret that weighed one-eighth of a grain, and it was cold enough on that night to chase a polar bear into an ice cave.

"She had such a cold the next morning that she couldn't talk.

"Now, what in the wide, wide world," said she to me when she'd got her pipes thawed out a little bit, "could have given me a cold, do you think?"

"Oh, they're wonders, all right enough," concluded the young married man, shaking his head dismally and gazing at the ceiling of the car as if the key to the eternal feminine riddle were inscribed there.—Washington Post.

He Loses.
"Well," he said, "I am perfectly willing to postpone our marriage out of respect for your venerable father!"

"Now, dearest, you know I'm not in love with that fossilized brute. I'm—"

IN THE TEMPLE OF RUIN

By WILLIS EMERY

Copyright, 1901, by Frederick R. Toombs

MONTE CARLO was the scene of this little adventure. The season was early June. The gardens were sweet with a thousand odors and silvery with moonlight, but in the casino there were glaring lights and a heat that seemed to strile upon the top of one's head and the scents that are bad counterfeits of flowers.

A young gentleman named Wilnot, whom I had met in Paris, had dined with me at the hotel, and we had then strolled across to the place where visitors are expected to spend their money in the purchase of nervous prostration. I had never visited this temple of absurdity before, but Wilnot, who had spent some years abroad, had been there often—much oftener, in fact, than any real friend of his would have wished. On this occasion he lost about 20 louis without winning a bet.

"Well, well," he cried, "I'm not fit luck tonight. Aren't you going to play?"

I confessed that I could see nothing in the sport. I had tried it elsewhere and had found, as one who lacks the

I WAS INTERESTED IN TWO WOMEN WHO SAT SIDE BY SIDE.

Instinct always will, that gambling is the most disappointing of the polite vices.

All the seats at the table were occupied, but there was no great crowd about. Two or three men were doing here and there to lay their bets, but we had room to spare at the end of the board, where we remained awhile to watch the faces of the players.

There were no great gains or losses. I was interested principally in two women who sat side by side, one of them mildly successful, the other steadily losing. It was amusing to observe that the woman who lost was angry with the woman who won and not with the croupier who swept in her money nor with herself for being so foolish as to play.

Among those who lost was a young gentleman with a typical Yankee countenance and the tall, thin, strong figure that matches with it. I sympathized with him because he was a fellow countryman and also because he was a long way from home and so might be the more seriously embarrassed by the sort of indiscretion which this place was built to encourage. I observed that his eye was always on the wheel when the ball was rolling and that when it fell in the wrong place he started as if with a spasm of pain.

I had seen him lose about 200 francs upon the numbers 31, 32 and 33 when a very charming young woman, simply dressed and escorted by a youth who looked as if he might be the brother of the player, approached the table and addressed the object of my interest. He had no seat, but was reaching over between two other gamblers to lay down his bets.

At the sound of the woman's voice he straightened up, withholding his money, and turned to speak to her. Their conversation was surely no business of mine, and I moved aside, but I could not help hearing her beg him to come away. She was not insistent, and she veiled her anxiety beneath some thin excuse of a social duty that he was neglecting, yet the essence of the affair was obvious. I felt a strong desire to take the young man by the collar and march him out of the place, but the etiquette of Monte Carlo forbids such help from man to man. So I remained passive, while the croupier announced the number 32.

The young woman, whom I rightly judged to be the wife of the player, turned away, hiding considerable vexation. She had accomplished nothing except that she had prevented her husband from putting down his money at a time when he would have won.

Though I felt that any game he might make would only bind him more securely to a folly that could have but one conclusion, I was so full of human frailty as to wish that he might win. It was not possible from where I stood to watch the rolling ball with any accuracy or to get a notion where it would fall even in the very last instant, but he was nearer, and his face to his hip pocket, while his figure straightened rigidly.

I laid my hand upon his sleeve, and he turned like a flash. "Don't do it," said I in a low tone. "Think of her."

I had a firm grip on him before I perceived that he had taken from his pocket was not a revolver, but a wallet.

The sight staggered me, and yet in a tenth part of a second I perceived that his folly was really almost as bad as the one I had anticipated. By his anxiety I knew that the money in the wallet must be a reserve, the loss of which would leave him stranded.

It was hard to say that which I knew should be said, but at that moment I caught a glimpse of his wife and brother approaching somewhat hastily through the long rooms.

"Pardon an entire stranger," said I, "but you know we're both Americans."

"Well, upon my word!" he cried, "and you—you really mustn't lose any more. You're not Lord Arrelsford, you know. You can't afford!"

"Bless my soul!" he said slowly as he fixed his bright blue eyes upon me. "I really like your impudence. If I'm not Lord Arrelsford, who the deuce am I? You may know more than I do about my financial situation, but by George, sir, I know my own name!"

Lord Arrelsford turned to the table and took from his wallet a sum of money that made me dizzy. When I recovered consciousness, Wilnot was leading me away.

"Nicknackitorian!"

London shopkeepers' slang is a dialect in itself and one that is always changing. What, then, is a "nicknackitorian?" We know not the word to-day, but, looking recently through some old law cases dating about a hundred years back, I was puzzled to find it applied in all good faith to describe a plaintiff in the sheriff's court. On further search it turned out to be a piece of forgotten cockney slang for a dealer in bric-a-brac.

The evidence showed that this plaintiff kept a sort of old curiosity shop, in which he dispensed "mummies," poisoned arrows, the head of King Arthur's spear and a genuine manuscript of the "first play acted by Theopis and his company in a wagon?" The defendant, a woman, had actually bought and paid for some of these rarities, but she died after having commissioned the embalming of an orang outang to add to her collection, and for this her executors refused to pay. Counsel for the defense poured contempt on the mummy of the orang outang and called it a "stuffed monkey."

But the "nicknackitorian" won his case. His profession was more taking than his name.—Manchester Guardian.

Doubtful Praise.
Mr. Faxon was the oldest patron of the "select boarding house" in which he lived, and his landlady sometimes referred people to him for a recommendation of her table.

His wish was to praise the food highly, as he could conscientiously do, but one day he overstepped his mark.

"I'm dyspeptic, sir," said a man who had gone to Mr. Faxon to make inquiries about the boarding house, "and my food has to be simple and well cooked—no high seasoning, no indigestible compounds."

Mr. Faxon looked at him with a bland and reassuring smile.

"My dear sir," he said in his most impressive manner, "you need have no fears. All I have eaten in the ten years I have been under Mrs. Brown's roof would not interfere with the digestion of the most delicate baby, sir, in the land."

Hiding the Children.
A ticket examiner entered a compartment wherein a respectfully dressed lady was comfortably seated. He did not notice a long, flat package lying on the opposite seat, covered with a traveling rug and a newspaper carelessly thrown over it, and he probably would have left the compartment oblivious of its existence had not a pair of sweet, pretty eyes peeped over the top and in a cautious tone the owner of them inquired:

"Mamma, has the man gone yet?"

The artful mother confusedly explained that her child was only three and entitled to travel free, but curiosity impelled him to further investigation, and a robust young girl of apparently ten revealed herself.—London Tit-Bits.

HE WOULD THRUST A NERVOUS HAND INTO ANOTHER POCKET.

32 and 33. Again the ball whirled around. It seemed to me that it rolled for half an hour before it fell sharply against one of the divisions of the wheel and bounced back.

I waited for the croupier's word, but the ball had not come to rest. It was spinning like a top on the edge of the wheel, upheld only by the force of its rotation and seemingly fixed on the revolving disk. I got a glimpse of it, and it was poised above the number 32. Immediately it fell with a little click.

"Twenty, black, even and above!" called the croupier. And I saw our young gentleman's hand go trembling Malcomb W Ford who murdered his brother Paul Leicester Ford, the novelist, and then killed himself in New York, Thursday, was in the '80's a great amateur athlete. He held records for the 100, 220 yards dash, 220 hurdle and was also a lawn tennis expert, and base ball player. For several years he conducted the department of amateur sport in one of the leading illustrated weeklies and was considered with Casper Whitney an authority on all branches of college athletics.

The Zanesville gun club opened up the season Thursday afternoon with a practice shoot at fifty targets. Owning to lack of practice and not being familiar with the new surroundings at Gant's park, together with the puffy wind that at times made the targets climb skyward and at other times dip almost to Mother Earth, poor scores were the rule. Thursday of next week will be housewarming day. As Marietta, McConnelville, New Lexington, Roseville, Fultonham, Somerset, Newark and Coshocton clubs have been invited a large turnout is expected and a jolly good time.—Times Recorder.

THUMB BADLY HURT.

Harry Pfeiffer, an employee of the Moser-Wehrle stove works, had the misfortune to meet with a very painful accident on Thursday afternoon. He was engaged in running a saw, when his right hand was caught, and the thumb nearly torn off.

RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

Train Runs 126 Miles in 125 Minutes on the Pennsylvania—B. & O. Freight Agents Meet—Newark Time Card Changes—The Goulds—Local R. R. Notes and Personals.

The St. Louis express on the Pennsylvania railroad yesterday went from Harrisburg to Morrisville, N. J., a distance of 126 miles, in 125 minutes. The route was over what is known as the Trenton Cut-off.

The scheduled time of the St. Louis express between Harrisburg and Morrisville is three hours and ten minutes. When Harrisburg was reached the train, which is known as No. 16, was 58 minutes late. It was composed of six cars—four Pullmans, one day coach and a combination car.

At Harrisburg the engine that had pulled the train from Altoona was taken off, and engine No. 1968, in charge of Engineer Fred Miller, put on, while Conductor George Tullock took charge of the train. They pulled out of Harrisburg at 4:37, and at 6:42 arrived in Morrisville, having made the run of 126 miles in 125 minutes.

With a special train carrying officials to a time card meeting at Cleveland Tuesday the New York Central made the 182 miles between Buffalo and Cleveland in 176 minutes.

Among many railroad men the report that the New York Central is considering the reduction of the running time between Chicago and New York to 18 hours is not regarded seriously. The standard time is 28 hours and if it is to be reduced 10 hours the charges for excess fare will be something like $10 and this is regarded as too much.

B. & O. Freight Agents in Session.

Freight agents of the Pittsburg and trans-Ohio divisions of the B. & O. railroad held a meeting yesterday in the office of J. R. Brockenbrough, general freight agent at Pittsburg. They are there for a conference of two days after which the territory covered by three divisions of the B. & O. will be redistricted. Little was done at the meeting yesterday, but to-day's session will be more of a business nature. The party went for a drive over Beechwood and Grant boulevards last evening, after which dinner was had at the Country club.

Gould's Projects.

Baltimore, Md., May 9.—It is estimated that the various projects of the Goulds will call for an ultimate outlay of $50,000,000. This includes the price of the Western Maryland, cost of terminals and tidewater extension to Baltimore, the reconstruction and new equipment required on the road, the Pittsburg extension, costing not less than $6,000,000; the Cumberland extension, costing about $2,000,000; the purchase of the West Virginia Central and improvements and the extension to Zanesville.

Woodford Still Vice President.

It was believed that when W. R. Woodford resigned the position of general superintendent of the B. & O. last week he also severed his official connection with the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railroad of which he was vice president. Information received yesterday, however, indicates that he still retains his place as vice president of the latter road. It is not known whether he will take up the active management of the property or not, but it is thought not. Mr. Woodford has railroad interests with other Cleveland men in the Southwest, over which he will probably assume the active management.

Newark to Columbus.

The officials of the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark railway expect to have regular service between Columbus and Newark established within a few days. A. C. Appleyard, president of the syndicate controlling local interurbans, was in the city yesterday en route to Boston, and during his short stay completed many details necessary toward the opening of the road.—Columbus Citizen.

The Brooks Locomotive Works last week completed an order for the Lake Shore which makes 4,236 engines built at these works since established in 1869. Within the last 12 months the American Locomotive Company, which includes the Brooks plant, and has been in operation but one year, has built 2,752 engines.

The Wabash is considering a lease whereby it will be able to enter Cleveland over the Big Four tracks.

Time Card Change.

The new summer time card on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad will go into effect on Sunday, May 18. But very few changes will be made. No. 46 from Chicago will arrive here about one hour later than now, and No. 8 from Chicago will arrive about five minutes later. The train for Shawnee will leave in the morning one hour later than at present, and will arrive here on its return at 1 o'clock instead of at 1:20 o'clock as at present. Trains Nos. 9, 10 and 11 between Sandusky and Mansfield will be put on going into effect June 1.

Earl is one of the brightest and most energetic young men of the city. He is honest, accommodating and careful in everything entrusted to his care and is bound to make his mark in the world. The Pennsylvania No. 6 had a special car attached Thursday with the Russian gypsies, en route from Chicago to Philadelphia.

H. A. Beaumont, General Foreman of the B. & O. shops at Zanesville, was in the city on Thursday evening on official business.

John A. Foster the B. & O. employe at Zanesville, who was injured some days ago by the explosion of a torpedo has recovered from his injuries and resumed work today.

A B. & O. inspection party composed of Chief Engineer Greiner of Baltimore, Division Engineer H. B. Dick of Newark and Superintendent of Bridges and Buildings Schultz of this city arrived in Zanesville on a special train Thursday morning. The party inspected local property of the company and left for a trip over the O. & L. K. in the afternoon. They are on an inspection tour of all the B. & O. lines.—Zanesville Times Recorder.

Weekly sleeping car service will be put on the Chicago & Northwestern lines reaching the fishing grounds of the northwest for the season.

The new erecting shop of the B. & O. at Glenwood have been completed and is now in full operation. Ten engines have already been turned out, with different class repairs.

M. E. Welsh, A. Altmeier, James Monahan, Aaron Brandt and Dr. Riley all Baltimore and Ohio firemen, were over the C. O. division on Thursday on an observation tour.

Notices have been sent out to the employes of the Pennsylvania railroad company that on Sunday, May 18, they must don their summer uniforms. They consist of neatly cut sack coats and pants, the color being blue.
